Mediator

Two students come to mediation. You know only that the girl has destroyed boy's laptop. You know that the fight took place in a computer class in front of other students. You know that part of the students supported Basia and others called her crazy. You know that the boy wants her out of school for good.

Girl-Basia

For the last two months Adrian has been making jokes about my looks. He was making comments that I should lose some weight-he called me pumpkin/donut. Lately he has been posting my photos on his FB page with remakes of my looks and mean jokes about me. Those photos are on the public display available for anyone to see. You have told him a few times that you don't like it. Before the computer class you spoke to him again where you told him that you do not wish to have your photos placed on his FB and photoshopped, you don't want him to joke about you in the public. After entering the class Adrian started to laugh with his friends and invited them to see how he can change fat Basia into slim goddess. You've lost it right there-you came up to him, grabbed his laptop and threw it on the floor. You called him names, you screamed that you had enough of his stupid, insensitive behaviour and then the teacher came in.

Boy -Adrian

For the last two years you have been competing with Basia over who gets better grades. You used to be best friends, you'd studied together and did all the school projects together. Around two months ago you have found a perfect way to lower down your stress-you have started to make jokes about people. With your current friends you make jokes about each other all the time with photoshopped photos of each other, later posted on FB - so everyone could laugh. Basia asked you a few times to stop making jokes about her, but you didn't see this as a problem- it is not a big deal-these are just friendly jokes. Your photoshopped photos also appear on FB and you don't mind it when someone makes jokes about you. Before the computer class Basia spoke to you again, asking to stop posting her photos and stop joking about her, but while saying that she was smiling, so you thought it is a tease. Upon entering the class you and your friends have started to joke around and you have invited all of them to see how from fat Basia you can create a slim goddess. Basia went nuts-she pulled your laptop out of your hands and she smashed it to the ground. Then she called you names. You want her to return money for the laptop and you want her to be expelled from the school.
